

Georgia Reads Day

September 30, 2024, 10 am

The Georgia Council on Literacy is excited to partner with Georgia Reads Coach Malcolm Mitchell and the Share the Magic Foundation on Georgia Reads Day. Join Malcolm Mitchell and the Share the Magic Foundation for a Reading Rally at the College Football Hall of Fame.

Malcolm Mitchell, former UGA football star and Superbowl champion, has been named the Georgia Reads Coach! He will be leading the rally to engage students across Georgia in reading activities.

Every student in Georgia can read with Malcolm and SHARE THE MAGIC of reading!

Don't be late!

The countdown will begin at 9:45 am and Georgia Reads Coach Malcolm Mitchell starts promptly at 10 am!

In attendance

300 second-grade students from Atlanta Public Schools

Livestream

GPB will broadcast live so that students and families can read with Coach Malcolm and engage in the Rally!

GPB Website

gpb.org/georgiareadsday

Scan to login to the Georgia Reads Day livestream with GPB

Interested in purchasing the Reading Rally book, authored by Malcolm Mitchell?

My Very Favorite Book in the Whole Wide World is available to order through the Share the Magic Foundation at www.readwithmalcolm.com. Free teacher resources and student worksheets are also available. Please email Robin at robin@readwithmalcolm.com.

Georgia Reads Day Questions- Contact Irene Munn at irene.munn@gosa.ga.gov.